13th Sunday in Ordinary Time - 2 July 2023

Our Mission Statement: St Joseph’s Parish is a community of disciples of Jesus, being of service to the world, for the greater glory of God.

Though Many We Are One

Recently I have been drawing attention to aspects of the Mass which highlight our unity or communion. They all occur in the Liturgy of the Eucharist, the part of the Mass starting after the Prayer of the Faithful.. After the bread and wine are prepared, we join together for the great Eucharistic Prayer, in which all of us, ordained and lay, offer our united praise and thanks to God, and join ourselves to the sacrifice of Christ. I have drawn attention to the traditional posture of standing for the Eucharistic Prayer to highlight the unity of our shared prayer.

Many elements in the Communion Rite Prayer together; exchanging the Sign of broken Eucharistic bread rather than sep-all have received Communion, before Unity is also expressed in another less small piece of Eucharistic bread into the also express our unity: praying the Lord’s Peace; Communion sharing from the same arate round hosts; remaining standing till sitting or kneeling for our personal prayer. obvious gesture: the priest dropping the chalice during the Lamb of God.

This has its origins in the early Church when portions of the Eucharistic bread (called the fermentum) consecrated by the bishop during his Sunday Eucharist in Rome would be carried out to the outlying churches for their celebrations, and dropped into their chalices. Opinions vary as to the exact purpose of this practice, but essentially it highlighted the unity of the church communities with their bishop.

The church has kept the practice of adding the Eucharistic bread to the chalice, although these days it does not come from the bishop. You may still like to join me, at that moment, in recalling our unity not only with one another but with Bishop Steve and all our diocese.

Over many centuries, participation at Mass had become a very private, personal experience. Gestures and postures as outlined here are starting to help us appreciate that Eucharistic Communion means union not just with Christ but also with one another.

God bless you all.

Fr Pat
